About DB2 License Audit Review

The Fillmore Group uses industry recognized tools and methodologies to validate the quantity of Information Management software licenses in use in your organization, either to prepare for a pending audit, or to respond to audit findings.

Interpretations of Passport Advantage and/or OTC requirements result in thousands of dollars of IT spending each year; preparation can reduce the risk of forced compliancy software purchases.

IBM is increasing the frequency of software audits. Understanding your current licensing arrangements and compliance requirements, and validating full adherence to them, is dependent on your ability to correctly track how many licenses were purchased, and where and how applications have been deployed. An independent DB2 License Audit review will provide you with a full compliance report.

The Fillmore Group has worked with DB2 on all platforms for over 20 years. Our consultants can track and report all Information Management product use and will compare it with up-to-date IBM license requirements.
